H.R. 4393 would require all future directors of the Court Services and Offender Service Agency and the Pretrial Services Agency for the District of Columbia to reside within the District. Under current law, the budgets of those two agencies are funded by federal appropriation and their expenditures are recorded in the federal budget. However, CBO estimates that implementing the bill's requirements would have no effect on the federal budget because adding residency requirements would not change those agencies' operating costs.

The CBO staff contact for this estimate is Matthew Pickford. The estimate was reviewed by H. Samuel Papenfuss, Deputy Director of Budget Analysis.
