H.R. 7276 would require the Administration to report to the Congress on war crimes and atrocities committed during Russia’s invasion of Ukraine, including its efforts to collect, analyze, and preserve evidence and efforts to promote awareness and accountability.

On the basis of information about the costs to prepare similar reports, CBO estimates that satisfying that requirement would cost less than $500,000 over the 2022-2027 period. Such spending would be subject to the availability of appropriated funds.

On April 1, 2022, CBO transmitted an estimate of the effects on direct spending and revenues for H.R. 7276, the Ukraine Invasion War Crimes Deterrence and Accountability Act, as one of a list of legislation to be considered under suspension of the rules in the House of Representatives. The two versions of the act are similar, and CBO’s estimates of those budgetary effects are the same.

The CBO staff contact for this estimate is Sunita D’Monte. The estimate was reviewed by Leo Lex, Deputy Director of Budget Analysis.
