House Committee on Financial Services

The Congressional Budget Act of 1974 requires the Congressional Budget Office, to the extent practicable, to prepare estimates of the budgetary effects of legislation ordered reported by Congressional authorizing committees. In order to provide the Congress with as much information as possible, the attached table summarizes information about the estimated direct spending and revenue effects of some of the legislation that has been ordered reported by the House Committee on Financial Services during the 117th Congress. The legislation listed in this table generally would have small effects on direct spending or revenues, CBO estimates. Where possible, the table also provides information about the legislation's estimated effects on spending subject to appropriation and on intergovernmental and private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act.

H.R. 68	Housing Fairness Act of 2022	Ordered reported	06/22/22	750	0	0	Not estimated	No	No	No	Madeleine Fox
	H.R. 68 would direct the Department of Housing and Urban Development to detect instances of housing discrimination based on characteristics specified in the Fair Housing Act. The bill also would reauthorize a competitive grant program to assist nonprofit organizations studying housing discrimination. The bill would authorize the appropriation of $416 million over the 2023-2027 period and $636 million over the 2028-2033 period for those activities. CBO estimates that enacting H.R. 68 would not affect direct spending or revenues. Because H.R. 68 would increase costs for activities not covered by the specified authorizations, CBO has not estimated the discretionary costs of implementing the bill. The bill contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act.

H.R. 4617 would require the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) to study and report to the Congress on the practice of payment for order flow (payments received by a stock brokerage for directing orders to another firm), including conflicts that can arise from such arrangements. The bill would require the SEC to revise its rules in keeping with the study's results. CBO estimates that enacting H.R. 4617 would not affect direct spending or revenues. CBO has not estimated the discretionary costs of implementing the bill. The bill would impose a private-sector mandate as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act that would not exceed the annual threshold of $184 million in 2022 (adjusted annually for inflation). The bill contains no intergovernmental mandates.

H.R. 4865	Registration for Index-Linked Annuities Act	Ordered reported	07/27/22	370	0	0	Not estimated	No	No	Yes	David Hughes

H.R. 4865 would require the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) to issue rules for creating a form that issuers of registered index-linked annuities would use to register those annuities with the commission. The SEC would be required to test the form among prospective purchasers of annuities and incorporate the results into the form's design. CBO estimates that enacting H.R. 4865 would not affect direct spending or revenues. CBO has not estimated the discretionary costs of implementing the bill. The bill would impose a private-sector mandate as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act that would not exceed the annual threshold of $184 million in 2022 (adjusted annually for inflation). The bill contains no intergovernmental mandates.

	H.R. 5912 would change how the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) regulates new industrial loan applicants and other industrial loan companies that it insures. The FDIC's administrative costs for such activities are classified as direct spending. CBO estimates that enacting H.R. 5912 would have an insignificant effect on direct spending and no effect on revenues over the 2023-2032 period. CBO has not estimated the discretionary costs of implementing the bill. The bill would impose private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act that would not exceed the annual threshold of $184 million in 2022 (adjusted annually for inflation).
